

A $100 Million Dollar Celebration!

Three $5,000 CollegeBoundfund accounts to be awarded

In honor of Rhode Islanders saving more than $100 million with CollegeBoundfund, children ages 5-14 can help celebrate Rhode Island's 529 college savings plan by participating in the "Why Saving for College is Important to Me" poster contest.

Three winning contestants will receive a $5000 CollegeBoundfund account.

THEME: "Why Saving for College is Important to Me."

PRIZES: A $5000 CollegeBoundfund account will be awarded to a winner in each of the three age categories:

Ages 5-8

Ages 9-11

Ages 12-14

In addition, winning artwork will be part of a print advertising campaign in newspapers throughout Rhode Island.

GUIDELINES: One entry per child. Must be a Rhode Island resident to enter. Black and white or color using paint, crayons or markers. Posters should be no larger than 11 x 17. All artwork must be original and spelling must be correct. No computer generated designs or lettering. Leave 1 inch margins for framing.

EXHIBIT: Winning poster designs and honorable mention artwork will be displayed and awards presented at a $100 million celebration and reception at the State House for participating children and their families.

JUDGING: Posters will be judged on creativity and originality. Written message should be in dark colored ink and in large font lettering. Remember, a short message is a better message.

Posters must include (on back): name, address, phone number, age, grade & school.

Submit artwork to:

CollegeBoundfund
Attn: Jennifer Bramley
2100 Broad St.
Cranston, RI 02905
401-785-0333

CONTEST DEADLINE:

4 p.m.
Tuesday, August 10, 2004

All artwork becomes the property of CollegeBoundfund.

CollegeBoundfund